

Gary Miller, EPA Region 6
EPA Regional Officer

Mr. Miller,

I'm aware that in order to preserve the environment, proper engineering practices must be employed. However, if the EPA allows the responsible parties to dredge the waste pits, harmful toxins will inevitably be released into the river. The studies completed thus far indicate that the only responsible solution is to permanently cap the San Jacinto River waste pits. Please consider the potential impacts of dredging and force the responsible parties to do the right things.

Sincerely,

(b) (6)
